

Quick question! Do you want to:

- Hear from one of the early pioneers of coaching who is often called "the Ambassador of Life Coaching?"
- Hang out with other Adlerians?
- Learn more about Adlerian principles?

YES? Then sign up for TLC's FREE coaching webinar on March 18th, 8pm EST where Dr. Patrick Williams, MCC, BCC, will be joining Co-Chairs, Pascale Brady and Kevin O'Connor and the rest of the Adlerian community.

We would be surprised if you haven't heard "Dr. Pat's" name before, as he is probably one of the first "Adlerian-inspired coaches" out there. After being a therapist for 16 years, he studied at Coach U with Thomas Leonard and closed his therapy practice to become a coach. He is one of the founders of the International Coaching Federation (ICF), and in fact founded the 12th coaching school accredited by the ICF in 1998, the Institute for Life Coach Training. There is so much more he has achieved, which you can find out about if you join us for the webinar. He has dedicated his life and career to coaching, training, speaking, and leading in the ever-evolving field of professional, life, and wellness coaching.

Today, Patrick runs a "Conscious Living Mastery" program, coaches ex-prisoners and returned navy seals back into civilian life, as well as continuing to author multiple books. Patrick has kindly offered a chapter of a recent book "The Philosophy and Practice of Coaching" to share with the audience of the webinar.

Register in advance for this FREE webinar - We hope to see you there: https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZYlf-ippjwuG9Oat0tpqPiONsos1DOp3_4t